We believe the better growth prospects for private credit will continue in 2H15. During the first six months of the year, we have seen a significant spike in private banking credit, given the more visible recovery of the Mexican economy, which has resulted in an increased credit demand by the private sector and greater credit supply by private banks. In this context, we believe that the upward trend observed in private loans will continue during 2015 and will sustain part of the recovery in the Mexican economy the second half of the year.
